calgary health region

To: Whom it may concern

The Calgary Health Region recently employed Synovia to develop an IT department resource forecasting system to assist in region-wide project resourcing. They leveraged our internal resources to develop a system that, once implemented, will generate visibility for resource demand from any project portfolio and synchronize our departments in delivering efficiently to demand.

I was very impressed by the methodology that Synovia employed to support our objectives, their professionalism and depth of knowledge. Through their workshops our team was able to produce solutions to the challenges we were facing. Synovia then generated a method that will enable us to balance resource supply vs. demand generated by projects.

The efficiency and professionalism with which Synovia operates has made them very enjoyable to work with.

Sincerely,

Mark Bredin
